

AHIPARA
LUXURY TRAVEL

Ahipara website > News > Finally - A New Look!

Finally - A New Look!

We're at last very pleased to announce that our new website has gone live. This website reflects the changes and development we've had within our business over the last six years, and hopefully will be a little more user-friendly for everyone.

It also includes our new itinerary builder which has a private password access for clients/agents and public pages with some sample itineraries to be used as examples. There are three examples up there to start with and we will add more as we come out of our busy season over the next few weeks.

We have also integrated our newsletter into the site and imported our library of news articles for future reference and to allow people we don't already know to start understanding our style.

We have quite a few plans for further improvement over the next months and if anyone has any suggestions or requests, please ask.

<<News index <Kahawai! | Another First >

Send this article to a friend

Â© 2008 Ahipara Luxury Travel